++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Staying dry and settled this weekend.

This Evening and Tonight:
Clear skies for parts of Wales this evening, mainly in the west. Otherwise a generally cloudy night for many with clear spells becoming restricted to western areas by dawn. Patchy fog and frost is possible where skies remain clear. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Saturday:
Mist and fog patches in places at first, these locally persisting all day. Otherwise many places cloudy and grey but much of west Wales will be sunnier at times. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Remaining dry and settled. Often cloudy but some sunshine in places and perhaps more widely by Tuesday. Risk of patchy freezing fog overnight and gradually turning colder with overnight frosts.
